

Antonio Silvia, Director of Export for Lucas & Lewellen, has 15 years of experience managing several successful businesses in the wine industry nationally and internationally. An entrepreneur and wine expert, Antonio comes from generations of Italian winemakers in his native country of Italy. He also established and operates WineTeam, Inc., a partnership of wineries that export wines all around the world. Antonio took that learned passion for wine to California and worked in market research and marketing consulting with Sonoma and Napa wineries as well as a handful of distributors across the country. Formerly, he was Vice President of a logistics company in California that distributed wine nationally and internationally.

Antonio Silvia joined Lucas & Lewellen in 2008 as Director of Export. He has a degree in Liberal Arts from Principe Umberto in Catania, Italy. He is also fluent in Spanish and Italian.

For all of your Export inquiries you can email Antonio at: as@wineteam.net.